Summary

The purpose of the workshop was to build content for the Environmental Stewardship (ES) Avian section of the Natural Resource Management (NRM) Gateway. On day one of the workshop, an overview of the NRM Gateway Initiative was presented to workshop attendees. Background information about the Stewardship Advisory Team and a summary of work completed for the ES portion of the Gateway was provided by Kathleen Perales and Angie Huebner. A review of the webcast information was provided by Rich Fischer and Ms. Perales. After initial overviews, avian workshop team members began developing content. Team members completed presentations of completed work on day two of the workshop. This was to report progress and receive constructive criticism and suggestions regarding content. The remainder of day two was spent making changes and adding content to the initial pages. A second presentation of content was completed on day three. A brainstorming session was conducted to identify key points regarding the Corps bird initiative.
